Category:Film and video technology Category:Software technologyCode 42: The Book of Numbers Warning: Too much detail to summarize in a mere blog post! For the disciples, their training was complete, and they were counted as a part of the last generation Jesus would establish. By the time the book of Numbers was written, their numbers had dwindled to 48,000 men (when they started off with a community of 3000). The Twelve, however, were only beginning to lose strength. And so it was that, in the final days of the old order, Moses passed on his instructions and had (at least) his grandson handed the guardianship over to Joshua: “Have the priests carry the ark of the covenant, and place it in the tabernacle. Then have Joshua, the son of Nun, start toward the south. Have him in charge of the volunteers from every tribe of Israel, to instruct them. And have him gather the whole assembly together at the border of their territory. All the people of the land shall be assembled before him in the valley on the plains of Ben Hinnom.” Numbers 31.14-22. Rather than lead them into battle, he would send them as guardians of the tabernacle. Meanwhile, Moses had a problem, a problem that would haunt him for eternity: “Now this shall be the responsibility of Yahweh and his priests. Yahweh and his priests shall keep the Passover on the fourteenth day of the month in the evening, and Yahweh and his priests shall go through the camp, and it shall be that when they have gone through the camp, the cloud of Yahweh shall pass through, and he shall smite all the earth, and the men of war in the camp shall be filled with terror. But those that are left of the can be gathered together, and shall go out against the enemies in the desert to the places that Yahweh shall choose. For Yahweh will comfort you and he shall take away your fears, and your previous distress shall turn into joy, and the previous abhorrence of Yahweh shall be turned into a love for Yahweh.” Numbers 9.10-15. And so Moses asks Yahweh f678ea9f9e
